List, Search & Enter Events Online...

For Event Organisers For Runners

An online entry service with personality

BookitZone.com is a fully secure and feature rich website where event organisers can list their events for free and enable participants to enter online.

We offer you full and immediate control over your event listing and handle the entry management and payment processing on your behalf. We can handle a wide range of athletic events* such as Distance Running, Cycling, Triathlons and Track & Field.

Our website is extremely flexible and enables you to capture exactly the information you need from your customers - even for quite complex events with many entry options. We have a large database of athletes looking for events to enter online.

*We are also able to host Non-Athletic events and Club Memberships

BookitZone.com has hundreds of events listed each year and with our intuitive search facility, you can easily find events of a specific type, distance, location or date. Once you have found the perfect event, you can book online in less time than it takes the kettle to boil. We provide immediate confirmation of your entry and store historical purchases for future reference. Visit our website to get started or scan our QR code with your smartphone or tablet.

Enter Events

We connect organisers and their events with participants in a seamless, professional and intuitive way. Using newsletters and social media we match events to those interested in attending and make it easy to enter in just a few clicks.

The fact that 163 out of 200 entries entered via BookitZone says it all regarding what competitors want. The event itself was a great success with a record turnout. I shall definitely be using BookitZone again for next year's event" Steve B. (Organiser)

"Thank you for your quick response, an excellent service by BookitZone as usual."
